 In February 2007, MAX Consulting Group, Inc., a US human resources company (Personnel Services/Executive Search firm) headquartered in New York, announced the opening of its branch office in Tokyo.

Since its start in New York in July 1994, MAX Consulting has specialized in job placement for bilingual Japanese business people. The company has provided job placement service to more than 10,000 personnel in major cities in the US and other countries/regions including London, Singapore, Shanghai, Hong Kong, Guangdong, Seoul, Mexico and Japan.

MAX Consulting originally opened a representative office in Tokyo in 1998, and has developed an alliance with its Japanese partner to expand business in Japan. By establishing this new Japanese branch office, it will enhance support services to Japanese "career-changers" or new graduates returning from overseas, as well as strengthen human-related services to Japanese companies that are going to expand into the US.
